

A Ship with Unfurled Sails

- ◆ Vigala Singers
conductor Joy Hill
- ◆ Quartet SaxEst
- ◆ Doris Kareva
- ◆ Gabriel Jackson

Wednesday, 7 July 2010 at 7.30 pm

St Simon Zelotes Church

Upper Chelsea

40 Milner Street

London

SW3 2QF

The Vigala Singers (Royal College of Music Junior Department alumni choir), together with Estonian saxophone quartet SaxEst, celebrate Anglo-Estonian cultural friendship with a concert of music by Holst, Pearsall, Vaughan Williams and Hillar Kareva.

Also on the programme will be two London premieres – Hymns from the Western Coast by Tõnu Kõrvits and A ship with unfurled sails by BBC Singers Associate Composer Gabriel Jackson, to a text by Doris Kareva and Tiina Aleman and Doris Kareva will read from Kareva's new collection The Shape of Time, published by Arc Publications.

The concert will be followed by a wine reception courtesy of the Estonian Embassy. There will be a retiring collection for the new lighting appeal at St. Simon Zelotes Church.

Estonian Embassy
in London

Concert supported by the Estonian Embassy in London, the Royal College of Music, St Simon Zelotes Church and Arc Publications.

